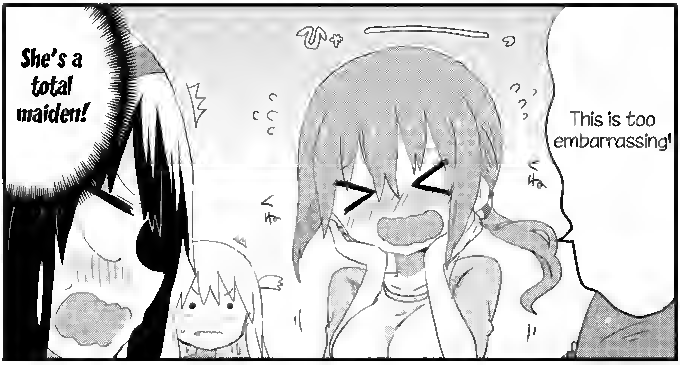
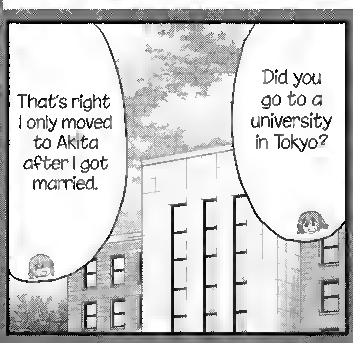
Love... What was it again?
You don't know!?
Why are you interested in this?
Well... That's because...
What!?
Due to the smaller population density of non-urban areas, us girls do not have many opportunities to experience romantic interactions. Thus, in order to further expand our knowledge on life we would like you, dear mother, to bestow the romantic knowledge you acquired throughout your life upon us
What the heck is she saying?
We were just curious
To put it simply we wanted to know how ya and dad met
Y-yes! That's exactly right!
I'm also curious about how you and dad met each other...
Hmm



She's a total maiden!
This is too embarrassing!

So young!
That's why I said it was embarrassing!
Mum (During College)

She started talking anyway!
It happened when I was in college...



Did you go to a university in Tokyo?
That's right I only moved to Akita after I got married.

Nene-san! Would you like to go home with me!?
No, with me Nene-san!
I'll give you a ride in my foreign car!
What?
Hmm... No thanks.
The weather is nice today so I'd like to walk home instead.
S-she was super popular...
Back then many people approached me
Is Nana's dad one of those guys from college we just saw!?
No, he's not
Nene-san
Were you bad at dealing with men?
So he still hasn't appeared
Not in particular

Would you be interested in working in the show business?
There it is! A producer for a show business company!
Um Excuse me!
Hm?
Not really
Shot down in one phrase!
I was constantly being introduced to all kinds of industries for some reason.
Please be our model!
You can't be an idol!
Let's aim for the top!
S-so you turned them all down...
What a waste.
I wanted to become a chef
Was there ever anything you wanted to do?
Hmm In my case

I love food so I wanted to study about cooking and share my dishes with all sorts of people
So that's why you're so skilled at cooking
When I mentioned this to other people...
We understand!
Everyone invited me to eat at high-class restaurants.
How kind
They look like hienas.
Nene-san! Would you like to eat with me!?
Sorry, not today
It's in a restaurant where you can't get in without booking half a year in advance! It seems their food is incredibly tasty!
My Papa got the seats for me!

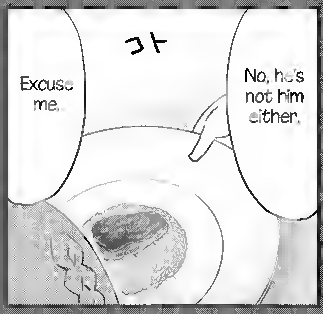
Deli
cious



Excuse me.
コト
No, he's not him either.

C-could this rich guy be the dad?
The food at that place was so good.

So this is the person who cooked this amazing food...

I'm the head chef
Thank you for coming to our restaurant tonight

That chef was indeed very good at cooking and was quite good looking, but...
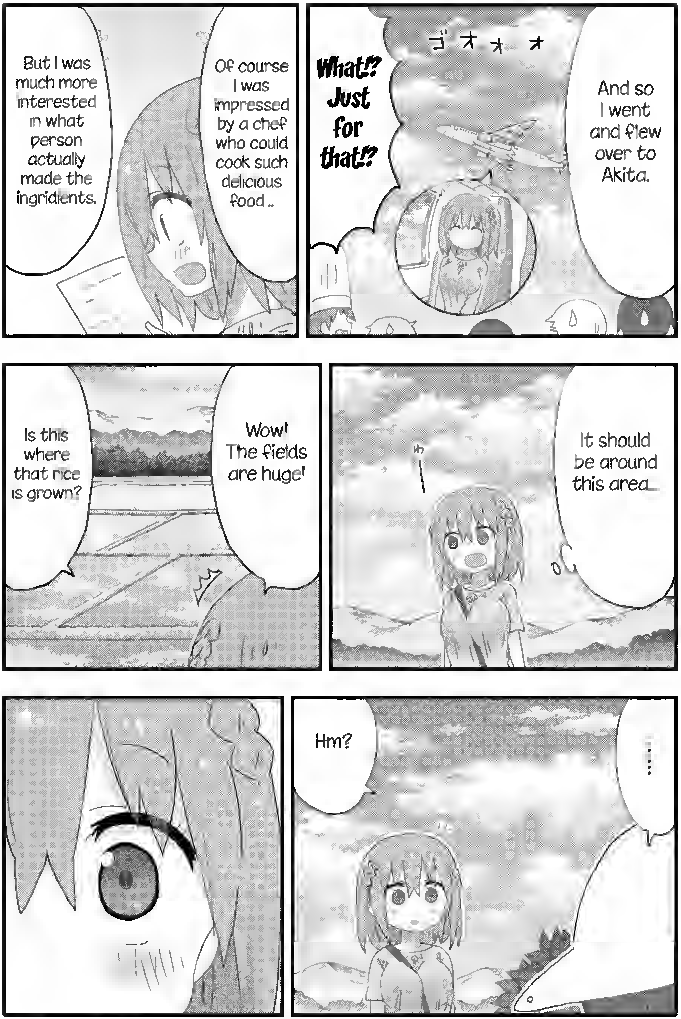
So the dad was the chef.
Ohhh! What a dramatic plot twist!
Fufufu.
Where is this rice from?
Ah, that rice...
That's Akitakomachi.
あきたこまち
Akita-komachi...
Indeed. A farmer who lives in Akita kindly sends it to us.

TL/N: Akitakomachi is a variety of rice from Akita prefecture. It's one of the best and most famous varieties of rice in the country.



But I was much more interested in what person actually made the ingridients.
Of course I was impressed by a chef who could cook such delicious food..
What!? Just for that!?
ゴオォォ
And so I went and flew over to Akita.
Is this where that rice is grown?
Wow! The fields are huge!
It should be around this area...
Hm?

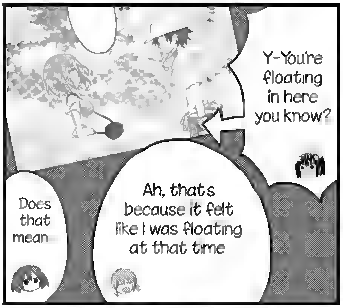
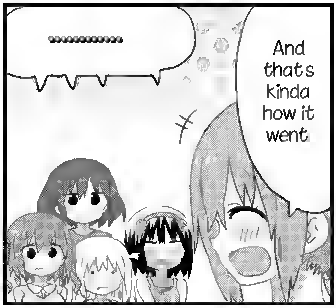
Good afternoon.
And that person...
Turned out to be dad.

As soon as I saw his face...
I knew he was the one I had to marry

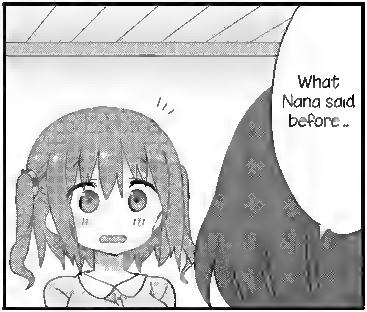


Y-You're floating in here you know?
Ah, that's because it felt like I was floating at that time
Does that mean



And that's kinda how it went

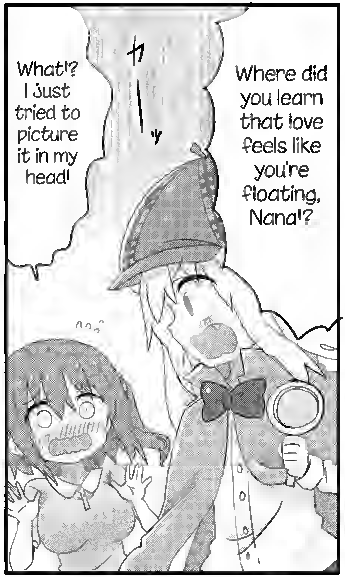
It feels like you're floating.



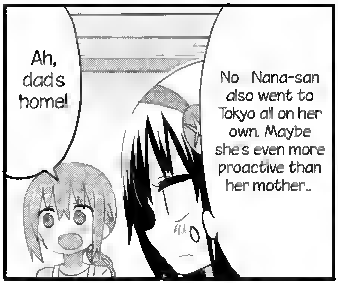
What Nana said before..

What...?

You're quite the proactive person..
I didn't!
Did you ever feel like you were floating while you were in Tokyo!?



What!? I just tried to picture it in my head!
Where did you learn that love feels like you're floating, Nana!?



Ah, dad's home!
No Nana-san also went to Tokyo all on her own. Maybe she's even more proactive than her mother..
